

Gov. Dinsmoor has appointed Ira Perley of Concord, Judge of the Superior Court in place of Leonard Wilcox, deceased. Mr. Perley is a distinguished lawyer, and a Whig.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE.—We understand that Hon. SAMUEL S. PHelps, U. S. Senator from Vermont, has consented to deliver the Anniversary Address before the American Institute in October next.—N. Y. Tribune.

LIEUT. S. Benton Thompson, of Vermont, has resigned his commission in the Navy of the United States.—New-York, Va., Beacon, June 27.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, July 1.

The Senate had up the Omnibus Bill. Mr. Cooper made a speech in its favor, and Mr. Upham one against it.

The President sent in a message about New Mexico, the substance of which was that he had nothing more to communicate, and that no official communication of Col. Monroe's proclamation had been received.

The House was occupied with the Galpin business, but after a series of speeches adjourned without having done anything.

TUESDAY, July 2.

SENATE.—Mr. Yulee called up his resolution for adjourning on the 1st of August. Mr. Clay opposed it. The subject was postponed.

The Compromise was then taken up, and Mr. Upham resumed his remarks, advocating the President's policy. Mr. Seward followed. He preferred the President's suggestion, and advocated the admission of California and New Mexico as States, with their present constitutions.

HOUSE.—Further debate was had on the Galpin report. No result was arrived at, when the House adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, July 3.

SENATE.—Mr. Wales (of Delaware) presented the resolutions of the citizens of Wilmington, against the compromise, and in favor of the President's policy.

Mr. Cass made a speech in favor of the claims of Texas on the New Mexican territory.

Mr. Houston protested against the Nashville Convention in the strongest terms, as a violation of the Constitution and deserving of no respect.

Mr. Bell made a strong and brilliant speech in favor of the President's plan.

Mr. Clay said he believed the Compromise would have passed by a large majority, if the President and Cabinet had not exerted their influence to prevent it.—Adjourned to Friday.

HOUSE.—"Galpin" was still under discussion. Nothing done.—Adjourned to Friday.

FRIDAY, July 5.

SENATE.—Mr. Bell resumed his speech on the Compromise. He denied that the President exercised his authority against the bill, and showed that the object was to throw the responsibility on the administration, what ver should be the fate of the bill.

Mr. Bell argued that the bill will restore harmony upon the New Mexico question.—Nothing but the President's plan would. The South would be more likely to get savagery introduced than a state government than a territorial one.

Mr. Foote said the admission of New Mexico would do more to destroy the Union than anything else.

Mr. Bell took exactly the opposite view. The House spent the day in unimportant discussion.

The 4th at Vergennes.

THE SONS OF TEMPERANCE had a Celebration on the 4th inst. The day was fine, and the easy access to Vergennes by Railroad and Steamboats, offered a good opportunity for all to participate in celebrating the day.

At an early hour the "Sons" were "up and dressed," ready to receive the delegation from this place, who were joined by Euro, Sahure and Pittsford Divisions. The shrill echo of the whistle of the "Iron Horse" announced the near approach of the above named delegations, filling ears literally full. The cars were soon at the depot—so was battle and excitement, preparatory to forming a procession. Soon music was heard, and the Phoenix Division, headed by the Benson Brass Band, was on the ground, ready to escort us to the several rooms already prepared for our reception. Soon the whole body was in motion, preceded by horsemen and marshals on foot, amid the roar of cannon and the heavy strains of brass, alternately by the Benson and Brainerd Bands. Soon after, two steamboats arrived at the wharf, literally crowded full of delegates from the different Divisions from the State of New York, which filled the Green in front of the Speakers' stand almost to suffocation. Added to these were the Divisions from Shoreham, Pittsford and Addison, making in all at least 1000 Sons, whose banners are nated to the most of the Temperance ship, and will never shrink when the hour of trial comes.

The main address, pronounced by Rev. Mr. ALGER, from Boston, was one of rare ability, but as a copy was requested for publication, we will not attempt to give a synopsis of any part of it.

Mr. Vinton also spoke to very good effect for some time, and was followed by Gov. SLADE in his usual forcible and convincing manner.

Just after the delivery of the first speech, the exercises were adjourned for dinner, prepared by H. Adams, of the City Hotel, who had made large arrangements, yet but a small proportion of the crowd could get seats at the tables, and were obliged to seek quarters at the different Hotels and private houses about the city.

Agreably to the programme, Capt. Grandey appeared in the midst of this vast concourse with his Fire Company, and a fine set of fellows they were, too. In connection with this was the Hook and Ladder Company, with their fire-extinguishing implements.

On the whole, the best sight was our friend P. W. COLLINS with his fifty or sixty Cadets of Temperance, with their little white collars and smiling faces, marching in regular order to the roll of the drum.

The number of persons assembled was variously estimated at from 4,000 to 10,000.

THE MANCHESTER MURDER.—The examination in this case was closed on Wednesday last, and the decision of Judge Potter was announced on Friday. Horace Wentworth and Wm. C. Clark were discharged. Henry and Asa T. Wentworth were committed for trial.

ACCIDENT.—A brakeman on the gravel train, we learn from the Brandon Tribune, was killed at that place on Friday by falling on the track when the cars were in motion. He was intoxicated at the time.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE.—We understand that Hon. SAMUEL S. PHelps, U. S. Senator from Vermont, has consented to deliver the Anniversary Address before the American Institute in October next.—N. Y. Tribune.

THE people at the North are getting tired of this protracted and unresponsible delay—and we are glad to see our own Representatives, at least, anxious to do something.

There are rumors—not well authenticated—of the movement of Texan troops up Santa Fe. The Whig State Convention meets at Montpelier one week from tomorrow. Every town in this County should be suitably represented.

The "LADY OF THE MOON".—The concert of this company of musical performers, at the Masonic Hall on Monday and Tuesday evenings, notwithstanding the unfavorable state of the weather, were well attended, and listened to with marked approbation. Mr. Covert is one of the oldest Concert singers in the country, (he is not old, either,) and is the composer of some fine pieces of music. Mr. Hector has a good voice and expression—and the Misses Macomber not only sing well, but also "manage" their bows with much skill.

LITTLELL'S LIVING AGE.—The large amount of literary matter, selected from the best periodicals and journals in Europe and this country, which is furnished every week in the Living Age, ought to command it a handsome circulation in a reading community like ours. It is worth while at least to procure a single number by way of experiment.—It can be found at Hagar's Bookstore.—The terms are $6 a year, or 12 1/2 cents a number.

Mr. Cass made a speech in favor of the claims of Texas on the New Mexican territory.

Mr. Houston protested against the Nashville Convention in the strongest terms, as a violation of the Constitution and deserving of no respect.

Mr. Bell made a strong and brilliant speech in favor of the President's plan.

Mr. Clay said he believed the Compromise would have passed by a large majority, if the President and Cabinet had not exerted their influence to prevent it.—Adjourned to Friday.

HOUSE.—"Galpin" was still under discussion. Nothing done.—Adjourned to Friday.

FRIDAY, July 5.

SENATE.—Mr. Bell resumed his speech on the Compromise. He denied that the President exercised his authority against the bill, and showed that the object was to throw the responsibility on the administration, what ver should be the fate of the bill.

Mr. Bell argued that the bill will restore harmony upon the New Mexico question.—Nothing but the President's plan would. The South would be more likely to get savagery introduced than a state government than a territorial one.

Mr. Foote said the admission of New Mexico would do more to destroy the Union than anything else.

Mr. Bell took exactly the opposite view. The House spent the day in unimportant discussion.

THE 4th at Vergennes.

THE SONS OF TEMPERANCE had a Celebration on the 4th inst. The day was fine, and the easy access to Vergennes by Railroad and Steamboats, offered a good opportunity for all to participate in celebrating the day.

At an early hour the "Sons" were "up and dressed," ready to receive the delegation from this place, who were joined by Euro, Sahure and Pittsford Divisions. The shrill echo of the whistle of the "Iron Horse" announced the near approach of the above named delegations, filling ears literally full. The cars were soon at the depot—so was battle and excitement, preparatory to forming a procession. Soon music was heard, and the Phoenix Division, headed by the Benson Brass Band, was on the ground, ready to escort us to the several rooms already prepared for our reception. Soon the whole body was in motion, preceded by horsemen and marshals on foot, amid the roar of cannon and the heavy strains of brass, alternately by the Benson and Brainerd Bands. Soon after, two steamboats arrived at the wharf, literally crowded full of delegates from the different Divisions from the State of New York, which filled the Green in front of the Speakers' stand almost to suffocation. Added to these were the Divisions from Shoreham, Pittsford and Addison, making in all at least 1000 Sons, whose banners are nated to the most of the Temperance ship, and will never shrink when the hour of trial comes.

The main address, pronounced by Rev. Mr. ALGER, from Boston, was one of rare ability, but as a copy was requested for publication, we will not attempt to give a synopsis of any part of it.

Mr. Vinton also spoke to very good effect for some time, and was followed by Gov. SLADE in his usual forcible and convincing manner.

Just after the delivery of the first speech, the exercises were adjourned for dinner, prepared by H. Adams, of the City Hotel, who had made large arrangements, yet but a small proportion of the crowd could get seats at the tables, and were obliged to seek quarters at the different Hotels and private houses about the city.

Agreeably to the programme, Capt. Grandey appeared in the midst of this vast concourse with his Fire Company, and a fine set of fellows they were, too. In connection with this was the Hook and Ladder Company, with their fire-extinguishing implements.

On the whole, the best sight was our friend P. W. COLLINS with his fifty or sixty Cadets of Temperance, with their little white collars and smiling faces, marching in regular order to the roll of the drum.

The number of persons assembled was variously estimated at from 4,000 to 10,000.

THE MANCHESTER MURDER.—The examination in this case was closed on Wednesday last, and the decision of Judge Potter was announced on Friday. Horace Wentworth and Wm. C. Clark were discharged. Henry and Asa T. Wentworth were committed for trial.

ACCIDENT.—A brakeman on the gravel train, we learn from the Brandon Tribune, was killed at that place on Friday by falling on the track when the cars were in motion. He was intoxicated at the time.

THE LADIES.—We understand that Hon. SAMUEL S. PHelps, U. S. Senator from Vermont, has consented to deliver the Anniversary Address before the American Institute in October next.—N. Y. Tribune.

THE people at the North are getting tired of this protracted and unresponsible delay—and we are glad to see our own Representatives, at least, anxious to do something.

There are rumors—not well authenticated—of the movement of Texan troops up Santa Fe. The Whig State Convention meets at Montpelier one week from tomorrow. Every town in this County should be suitably represented.

Mr. Cass made a speech in favor of the claims of Texas on the New Mexican territory.

Mr. Houston protested against the Nashville Convention in the strongest terms, as a violation of the Constitution and deserving of no respect.

Mr. Bell made a strong and brilliant speech in favor of the President's plan.

Mr. Clay said he believed the Compromise would have passed by a large majority, if the President and Cabinet had not exerted their influence to prevent it.—Adjourned to Friday.

THE 4th at Vergennes.

THE SONS OF TEMPERANCE had a Celebration on the 4th inst. The day was fine, and the easy access to Vergennes by Railroad and Steamboats, offered a good opportunity for all to participate in celebrating the day.

At an early hour the "Sons" were "up and dressed," ready to receive the delegation from this place, who were joined by Euro, Sahure and Pittsford Divisions. The shrill echo of the whistle of the "Iron Horse" announced the near approach of the above named delegations, filling ears literally full. The cars were soon at the depot—so was battle and excitement, preparatory to forming a procession. Soon music was heard, and the Phoenix Division, headed by the Benson Brass Band, was on the ground, ready to escort us to the several rooms already prepared for our reception. Soon the whole body was in motion, preceded by horsemen and marshals on foot, amid the roar of cannon and the heavy strains of brass, alternately by the Benson and Brainerd Bands. Soon after, two steamboats arrived at the wharf, literally crowded full of delegates from the different Divisions from the State of New York, which filled the Green in front of the Speakers' stand almost to suffocation. Added to these were the Divisions from Shoreham, Pittsford and Addison, making in all at least 1000 Sons, whose banners are nated to the most of the Temperance ship, and will never shrink when the hour of trial comes.

The main address, pronounced by Rev. Mr. ALGER, from Boston, was one of rare ability, but as a copy was requested for publication, we will not attempt to give a synopsis of any part of it.

Mr. Vinton also spoke to very good effect for some time, and was followed by Gov. SLADE in his usual forcible and convincing manner.

Just after the delivery of the first speech, the exercises were adjourned for dinner, prepared by H. Adams, of the City Hotel, who had made large arrangements, yet but a small proportion of the crowd could get seats at the tables, and were obliged to seek quarters at the different Hotels and private houses about the city.

Agreeably to the programme, Capt. Grandey appeared in the midst of this vast concourse with his Fire Company, and a fine set of fellows they were, too. In connection with this was the Hook and Ladder Company, with their fire-extinguishing implements.

On the whole, the best sight was our friend P. W. COLLINS with his fifty or sixty Cadets of Temperance, with their little white collars and smiling faces, marching in regular order to the roll of the drum.

The number of persons assembled was variously estimated at from 4,000 to 10,000.

THE MANCHESTER MURDER.—The examination in this case was closed on Wednesday last, and the decision of Judge Potter was announced on Friday. Horace Wentworth and Wm. C. Clark were discharged. Henry and Asa T. Wentworth were committed for trial.

ACCIDENT.—A brakeman on the gravel train, we learn from the Brandon Tribune, was killed at that place on Friday by falling on the track when the cars were in motion. He was intoxicated at the time.

THE LADIES.—We understand that Hon. SAMUEL S. PHelps, U. S. Senator from Vermont, has consented to deliver the Anniversary Address before the American Institute in October next.—N. Y. Tribune.

THE people at the North are getting tired of this protracted and unresponsible delay—and we are glad to see our own Representatives, at least, anxious to do something.

There are rumors—not well authenticated—of the movement of Texan troops up Santa Fe. The Whig State Convention meets at Montpelier one week from tomorrow. Every town in this County should be suitably represented.

Mr. Cass made a speech in favor of the claims of Texas on the New Mexican territory.

Mr. Houston protested against the Nashville Convention in the strongest terms, as a violation of the Constitution and deserving of no respect.

Mr. Bell made a strong and brilliant speech in favor of the President's plan.

Mr. Clay said he believed the Compromise would have passed by a large majority, if the President and Cabinet had not exerted their influence to prevent it.—Adjourned to Friday.

THE 4th at Vergennes.

THE SONS OF TEMPERANCE had a Celebration on the 4th inst. The day was fine, and the easy access to Vergennes by Railroad and Steamboats, offered a good opportunity for all to participate in celebrating the day.

At an early hour the "Sons" were "up and dressed," ready to receive the delegation from this place, who were joined by Euro, Sahure and Pittsford Divisions. The shrill echo of the whistle of the "Iron Horse" announced the near approach of the above named delegations, filling ears literally full. The cars were soon at the depot—so was battle and excitement, preparatory to forming a procession. Soon music was heard, and the Phoenix Division, headed by the Benson Brass Band, was on the ground, ready to escort us to the several rooms already prepared for our reception. Soon the whole body was in motion, preceded by horsemen and marshals on foot, amid the roar of cannon and the heavy strains of brass, alternately by the Benson and Brainerd Bands. Soon after, two steamboats arrived at the wharf, literally crowded full of delegates from the different Divisions from the State of New York, which filled the Green in front of the Speakers' stand almost to suffocation. Added to these were the Divisions from Shoreham, Pittsford and Addison, making in all at least 1000 Sons, whose banners are nated to the most of the Temperance ship, and will never shrink when the hour of trial comes.

The main address, pronounced by Rev. Mr. ALGER, from Boston, was one of rare ability, but as a copy was requested for publication, we will not attempt to give a synopsis of any part of it.

Mr. Vinton also spoke to very good effect for some time, and was followed by Gov. SLADE in his usual forcible and convincing manner.

Just after the delivery of the first speech, the exercises were adjourned for dinner, prepared by H. Adams, of the City Hotel, who had made large arrangements, yet but a small proportion of the crowd could get seats at the tables, and were obliged to seek quarters at the different Hotels and private houses about the city.

Agreeably to the programme, Capt. Grandey appeared in the midst of this vast concourse with his Fire Company, and a fine set of fellows they were, too. In connection with this was the Hook and Ladder Company, with their fire-extinguishing implements.

On the whole, the best sight was our friend P. W. COLLINS with his fifty or sixty Cadets of Temperance, with their little white collars and smiling faces, marching in regular order to the roll of the drum.

The number of persons assembled was variously estimated at from 4,000 to 10,000.

THE MANCHESTER MURDER.—The examination in this case was closed on Wednesday last, and the decision of Judge Potter was announced on Friday. Horace Wentworth and Wm. C. Clark were discharged. Henry and Asa T. Wentworth were committed for trial.

ACCIDENT.—A brakeman on the gravel train, we learn from the Brandon Tribune, was killed at that place on Friday by falling on the track when the cars were in motion. He was intoxicated at the time.

THE LADIES.—We understand that Hon. SAMUEL S. PHelps, U. S. Senator from Vermont, has consented to deliver the Anniversary Address before the American Institute in October next.—N. Y. Tribune.

THE people at the North are getting tired of this